Central Hi-Lites of 1959 has been made possible by the Farmland and Parker Yearbook Staffs of the Monroe Central School Corporation. To the best of our ability, we have combined our efforts to make this book a hi-lite of the school year 1958-59.

Yearbook Staff

The first difficulty of the day for a student is getting out of bed.

It is too bad more students don't eat a good breakfast before starting their school day as Sarah and Jayne are doing.

Student

Walking to school can help maintain good health for students, and also help keep athletes like Dan in shape for all sporting events.

If students don't walk to school or drive their own cars, they must ride the bus. Many of the bus riders could use a helping hand in carrying their school necessities (???) into the building.

Anxiety is written on the faces of the students at the beginning of the year as they enter the building for the first day of school, but in May they will be just as anxious to be leaving the building.

The Seniors find out they must pay book rent the same as everyone else. Are they glad this is the last time they will be paying it?

Tardy slips are just a habit for some people!

It seems that this is one class the boys don't mind attending.

Life

Shop boys take pride in the things they build.

Speed drills are an essential, yet nerve - wracking, part of typing class.

When lunchtime comes, everyone had better move over for the seniors, especially Dianne!

Come on Shirley, it's not that bad.

See? We told you it wasn't so bad. Big mouths always come in handy at this time of the day.

Some girls spend the whole noon hour primping!

The stragglers in the background don't seem to bother these couples when they have their noon-hour talks (???).

When "32" was torn up, these guys realized that boots were an essential part of a student's belongings.

Oh yes, Martha, we've caught you and your accomplices eating in class.

Can't you girls move someplace else to do your talking? You are blocking an emergency entrance!

Library books can bring enjoyment and information to the high school students.

Believe it or not, these girls are studying about and having a picnic in their home economics class.

Drivers' training is quite a help in the driving life of a student.

Can you believe it? These junior and senior boys are actually studying. Pat is also catching up on her reading.

These guys in drafting have plenty to do, but they just don't want to do it.

These eighth graders really enjoy their science field trips. Who wouldn't?

The students have joyous looks on their faces as they finish another day of school.

The buses load up for the seemingly long journey home. Pity the drivers!

Study! Study! Study! It seems as if that is all a student does.

Susie and Anne are just 2 of the several outstanding magazine sellers.

Will you guys never learn? It looks as if Juniors and Seniors would know better.

To be good cheerleaders, these girls practiced at least once a week during the basketball season.

The students always looked forward to the after-ballgame record hops.

Basketball was the main sport of the school year.

The pep club is getting ready to perform at the tourney.

Dig those crazy seniors as they are playing "If you love me honey, smile."

This scene from Senior Night proved hysterical.

It wasn't so sad after all, was it, Judy?

These graduates sincerely appreciated the congratulations and good-lucks given to them after the commencement exercise.

Personal feelings are recorded in one's diary at the end of another school year.

MR. LEONARD O. HEWITT, Superintendent

To the Staff of the Monroe Central Hi-Lites: We wish you success and a fine Yearbook.

To the students of Monroe Central: We know you have had a fine year. This school year has been another step in the advancement and progress toward a good educational system. We know we are another year closer toward what we have been looking forward to in our schools. We know each and every student is doing his or her part to improve our schools. We hope your school days and the various activities in which you have participated will be remembered by you. This fine Yearbook should bring back those memories to you in the future.

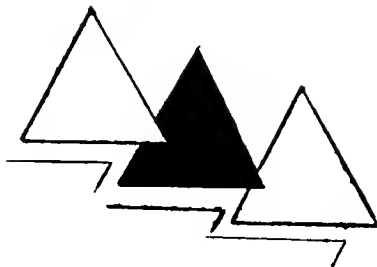

Your Superintendent

Principals

Never will I find a more cooperative student body, faculty, or community with which to work than that with which I have been privileged to be associated during the past six years. I have a great deal of affection for those who have been a part of the school and wish to thank each of you for the wonderful reception and courtesies extended my family and myself during our tenure in Farmland.

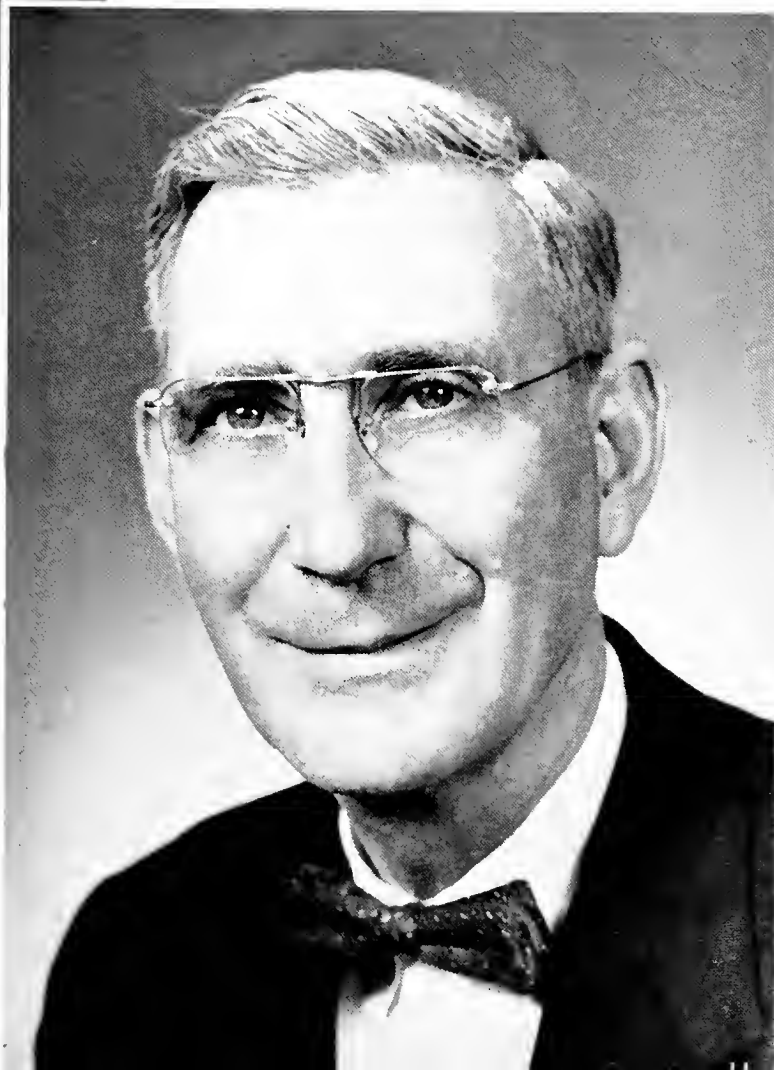

I will watch your future achievements with more than casual pride and interest, and will feel tremendously successful if the school has, in some small way, made a contribution to a more successful and happier future for you.

Robert C Egley

The Editorial Staff is to be commended in its use as the theme of this year's Hi-Lites "Student Life." Student life embodies all of what we symbolize as an alma mater in our future assembly of reminiscences.

Loyalty and faith go together. We are loyal to those things in which we believe because of values which they represent and which we seek. Our loyalties and our faiths are tests of character. The Great Apostle named as those things that abide and are most important, faith, hope and love. In an age of unlimited knowledge and material resources available to every American, we need to ask ourselves the question as to what are our abiding loyalties and faiths. May the 1959 Hi-Lites be a permanent reminder not alone of an enjoyable year of achievement but may it also be a dedication to the great ideals of service and knowledge and creativity.

Central Yearbook

We, Kay, Christinia, Mrs. Coons, Jayne, Sarah, Mrs. Gooden, Anne, and Connie have met evenings at both Farmland and Parker schools. Rain, snow, or mud couldn't stop us from traveling between the schools in order to do our duty. Many long hours were spent in planning, designing, getting copy, taking pictures, and working on the numerous other things which are associated with making a yearbook. We hope everyone enjoys the yearbook and that it will bring back many happy memories.

We, the yearbook staff, declare we have—slaved, starved, drawn, typed, traveled, taken pictures, pasted, cut, argued, discussed, planned, telephoned, waded mud, crased, written, mimeographed, rushed, and sweat, to meet the deadline.

"That woman took my pearls! I am going to have her arrested."

The jury—consisting of Joan, Betty, and Flickie—found Mrs. Guarino innocent of the crime, and everyone is happy about the verdict.

Mrs. Katherine Zimmerman, Director, is showing Jerrie how to sleep on Jim's shoulder.

"Now, get on that horse before I shoot!"

"Don't be alarmed; snakes are mankind's best friends."

Remember all the fun we've had. At Madison, sticking our legs out of the windows, wanting to walk across the bridge, sinking in that mucky mud, etc., Our friendly fights, 4-H, the 4-H fair, Job's, Jr. leader, at ball games, the tourneys, the regional, when we started for the Pizza King, my 60¢ carnation, the state fair, every year we swear we're not going in that dumb parade, and every year we're still there. But this year we barely made it., Also Band practice has had its ups-and-downs, remember all the pizzas we've had at the Dari-DeLight, especially during our stay at "Grannies" while the Farmland fair was going on. I bet we gained a few pounds that week!!! And let's not forget "DEAR OLE' CLYDE!" He's a swell guy that really gets around. We've also had a lot of fun on Blackie. (And I've had a few bumps, spills, etc. etc.!!!) Now, 1808 University you.! You get the easy ride. I've really enjoyed every minute of it when you, your mother, + dad has taken me places. I don't remember when our friendship started, but it doesn't really matter, I guess it was in the sixth or seventh grade sometime. "Your School Photographer" But I hope it never ends. CONGRATULATIONS! on getting cheerleader. You're a good one, and you deserved it. Loads of luck, love, and happiness. Oh! Yes! We'll have to finish reading each others diaries! Let's see, it was April 16, when we finished. We both have a lot to catch up on. We've also had lots of fun at record hops, and at slumber parties. Remember at Muncie when we got home, the corn cob in the bed, the "you know what's" in the window. Well, it was fun anyway. Well, I'll save some room for someone else.
